

DRIVING IN MARYLAND — A PRIVILEGE THAT COMES WITH AN IMPORTANT RESPONSIBILITY

As a Maryland resident and motorist, you must have a valid Maryland driver's license at all times. Your photo license also serves as your best form of general identification.

Renewing Your License

This renewal notice has been mailed to you 60 days prior to the expiration of your driver's license. To renew just visit one of the Motor Vehicle Administration (MVA) locations listed in this brochure and present your renewal notice, expiring license, and fee. You are responsible for renewing your driver's license before it expires.

An applicant who is under 21 cannot renew their license until their 21st birthday.

Vision Screening?

You will be required to pass a vision screening administered by MVA personnel. See enclosed brochure for complete details.

NOTE: Please be advised that if you have monovision, you will be unable to successfully pass the vision screening at the MVA. It is highly recommended that you visit your ophthalmologist/optometrist to complete this form. Please bring completed form with you to the MVA.

Renewal Fees

Effective October 1, 2012, the Maryland MVA began issuing non-commercial driver's licenses for up to an 8-year period of validity. Individuals renewing their driver's license will receive a license with a validity period ranging from 5 to 8 years, as identified through a computer generated selection process. The fee required for renewing your driver's license will be based on the period of validity ($6.00 per year for renewals). Your fee due is printed on your enclosed renewal notice.

Important Information

Senate Bill 759 Effective 10/01/03

If you are a Maryland noncommercial driver operating a commercial motor vehicle in intrastate commerce (within the State of Maryland) and the vehicle weighs between 10,001 and 26,000 pounds, you are now required to hold and maintain a valid Federal Motor Carrier (DOT) physical card in your possession. If you have a preexisting medical condition for which onset was prior to 10/01/03, you will be exempt from this requirement for a 20-year period, provided your preexisting condition does not worsen.

The Commercial Driver's License

Drivers of heavy trucks, buses and vehicles placarded for hazardous materials must have a special commercial driver's license (CDL) with proper endorsements. Vehicles over 26,000 lbs., buses designed to transport 16 or more passengers including the driver, all school buses, mobile cranes, uncoupled tractors (i.e., bob tails), and most tow trucks are included.

- If you are applying for or renewing a CDL, you must have a valid medical examiner's certificate (DOT/Med Cert physical certification card) in your possession and a CDL waiver exemption for interstate or intrastate operations, if required.
- Effective January 30, 2012 the MVA will require copies of the updated medical certification documentation (without alterations) throughout the entire duration of the commercial driver's license. Therefore, since medical certifications are only valid for 2 years or less, CDL holders will be required to submit their updated medical document(s) prior to expiration of their current medical certification documentation.
- A CDL can be obtained, corrected, duplicated or renewed only at full-service offices.
- To renew a CDL with a hazardous materials endorsement, you must pass the HAZMAT TEST. This test, which is written or computer assisted, is given only in English. Tests are administered Mon.-Fri., 8:30 a.m.-3:00 p.m. and Sat. 8:30-10:00 a.m.
- Drivers who hold a commercial driver's license must have a valid DOT card or proper waiver exemption (if required) in their possession.
- The U.S. Patriot Act of 2001 requires all CDL holders with a HAZMAT endorsement to undergo a criminal background check to include a fingerprint process.
- School bus, passenger bus and hazmat operators are not authorized a waiver for intrastate operation.

Medical Status

For the safety of all drivers, the MVA must consider your medical status as part of your license request. Medical conditions which could affect your driving, must be reported to the MVA. Please submit with your application, a certificate from your doctor indicating the onset of the disability, diagnosis, prognosis, and medications, if any. All medical data is kept confidential and will only be used by the MVA to determine your qualifications to drive.

Voter Registration

You may apply to register to vote when you visit an MVA office to renew your driver's license. Ask an MVA Representative for details.
